Modern design combined with easy handling

Many shops set up their cash register on the tablet. With the curve.one, you not only have your tablet in a reliable holder, but also in a stylish one. The tablet attachment is flexible and can easily be tilted back and forth by hand. The retaining clips fix your device in an uncomplicated and stable way. The optional plug-in lock secures your tablet against unauthorised removal and offers the authorised user the full flexibility of the mobile device. The curve.one can be supplemented with a turntable, which is available separately. This allows the tablet to be conveniently turned towards the customer during payments.

Sturdy material that keeps its promises

The curve.one is made of galvanised sheet steel. Due to its thickness of 3 mm, the bracket guarantees a very stable stand without deforming. The bracket is finished with a powder coating to prevent scratches.
